A. The problem was the combination of the hypervisor "VMWare" on my pc, and the deorean made by easy-assware, and a harddrive made by Seagate. After 2 days trying to crack the case and strip my harddrive, I finally decided to reinstall my computer with another harddrive and switch from the /dev/sda to /dev/sdb. Prosthetic hip joints, comprising a metal femoral component and a polyethylene acetabular component, are used in the reconstruction of hip joint damaged because of congenital causes, accident, cancer, or degeneration of the hip joint. The size of the metal femoral component and the shape of the polyethylene component are selected and established in the course of the surgery with the assistance of a computer-aided design (CAD) device. A scanner is used to produce a digital representation of the patient's hip joint and the CAD device is used to create a 3D replica of the patient's hip joint. The reproduction of the patient's hip joint by the CAD device is generally quite precise. However, the dimension of the CAD-designed prosthesis may be off from the reproduction. Therefore, the surgeon must manually modify the
